6 coal miners trapped

SIX COAL miners were trapped after a coal mine's roof collapsed in Diplahan, Zamboanga Sibugay, a government-run oil exploration company said Tuesday.

Philippine National Oil Company Exploration Corp. said the coal development shafts had been operated in joint venture with Taiwan Overseas Mining Corp. since 1999.

The affected mine development shaft is about 56 meters deep.

PNOC-EC president and chief executive Eduardo Mañalac said rescue efforts were underway to save the miners.

"We have received initial reports from the site that the rescue team has already spotted two of the trapped miners about two meters away from them," Mañalac said. "The rescue team has also heard sounds from the pipes indicating the conscious presence of the other trapped miners."

It was not clear what caused the shaft's roof to collapse. AP

Misamis shabu lab busted

By Christian V. Esguerra

THE GOVERNMENT has dismantled another drug laboratory, arresting two Chinese and seizing huge volumes of shabu-making equipment in an obscure town in Misamis Oriental, authorities announced yesterday.

It was the 11th shabu (methamphetamine hydrochloride) lab to be discovered in the country this year, according to Deputy Director General Ricardo de Leon, the police anti-drugs czar.

The raid on the abandoned Mindanao International Concrete Products Manufacturing Corp. warehouse in Barangay Loguilo, Alubijid, led to the arrest of Peter Yu So and Jack Dy Chua on Monday, said Anselmo Avenido Jr., Philippine Drug Enforcement Agency director.

Seized from the lab were precursors and other chemicals used to manufacture high-grade shabu.

Among these were plastic containers of red powder, black granules, white flakes and yellowish liquid. There were also liquefied petroleum gas tanks, a weighing scale, ice buckets, a funnel and a plastic container with a small amount of power.

PDEA operatives, backed by local police, stormed the lab on the strength of a search warrant issued by a Misamis municipal trial court.

De Leon said the Misamis raid strongly indicated that drug traffickers had transferred their operations outside Metro Manila following the series of raids that dismantled several laboratories in the metropolis.

40% of avian bird species face extinction by 2100

WASHINGTON A new study by the World Wildlife Fund (WWF) and the Smithsonian Institution's National Museum of Natural History warns that 40 percent of the world's bird species could be extinct by the year 2100. The study, which is the first of its kind, found that the loss of habitat and the effects of climate change are the two biggest threats to birds. The WWF says that the loss of habitat is the most significant threat to birds, with 30 percent of the world's bird species facing extinction by 2100. The Smithsonian Institution says that the effects of climate change are the second biggest threat to birds, with 10 percent of the world's bird species facing extinction by 2100.

Pinochet indicted for murder

SANTIAGO—A Chilean judge on Monday indicted former dictator Augusto Pinochet on 11 charges for murder and kidnapping carried out under his 1973-1990 rule that ended when placing him under house arrest.

Historical, in a dramatic play for Pinochet, 80, his lawyers in the Monday with all appeals court intervention of the under placing him under house arrest while the charges against him are reviewed by the higher court.

Judge Juan Guzmán says the charges against Pinochet, as commander in chief of Operation Condor "a conspiracy of 14th South American military, British ships to find their equipment and spirit away their bodies."

The case could place Pinochet in the dock for the first time for alleged human rights abuses committed during his 17-year rule.

"It is hard to say with words what it was like to hear this indictment by a judge," said a visibly moved Viviana Cruz, head of Families of Missing Detainees, one of the main anti-Pinochet groups.

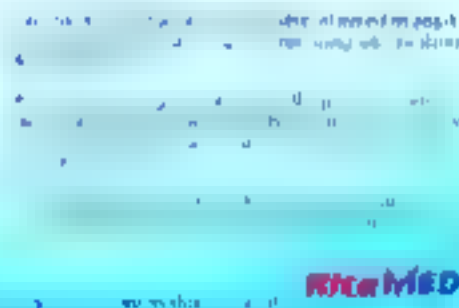

"I think a very important process has started in the search for justice and truth," said lawyer Jofre Urrutia.

Pinochet's lawyer, Pablo Rodríguez, said Pinochet was not to stand trial.

"This is an abuse of the most basic human rights of a person who is put on trial without being able to defend himself," Rodríguez said. AFP

FPJ election protest lives on, say lawyers

MANILA, Nov. 11 — The election protest filed by the family of Ferdinand Marcos Jr. against the results of the 1998 presidential election remains alive, according to lawyers representing the family.

PPA, Guangzhou Port ink 'sister port' pact

By Howard W. Chong

THE INTERSTATE PORT AUTHORITY (IPA) and the Guangzhou Port Group (GPG) have signed a "sister port" agreement, marking a significant step in strengthening trade ties between the United States and China. The pact, signed in Beijing, will facilitate increased cargo and passenger traffic between the two ports, with a focus on expanding trade in goods such as agricultural products, textiles, and electronics. The IPA, which manages the Port of Long Beach and the Port of Los Angeles, is the largest port complex in the United States. The GPG, one of the largest port groups in China, operates several major ports along the coast. The agreement includes provisions for joint marketing efforts, information sharing, and the establishment of a joint working committee to oversee the implementation of the pact. This move is seen as a key initiative to boost U.S.-China trade, which has grown rapidly in recent years.

Metrobank sets next auction

The auction is expected to take place in the coming months, with the bank providing further details as the process moves forward.

Blackout shows urgency of Transco privatization, says DOE

A recent power outage in the Northeast has underscored the need for the privatization of Transco, according to the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE). The outage, which affected millions of people, was caused by a combination of factors, including aging infrastructure and operational challenges. DOE officials argue that the current ownership structure of Transco is inefficient and hampers the ability to invest in modernizing the grid. They believe that privatization would introduce market competition and encourage faster investment in new technologies and infrastructure. The DOE is currently studying various options for the privatization of Transco, including partial and full ownership transfers, and is expected to release its findings in the near future.

Congress set to probe Mas' role in plant bidding

Congress is set to probe the role of Mas in the bidding process for a new power plant. The investigation is prompted by allegations of potential conflicts of interest and improper influence in the selection of the winning bidder. The plant, which is a key project for the region, has been the subject of intense scrutiny due to the high stakes involved. Congress is expected to hold hearings on the matter, with the goal of ensuring transparency and accountability in the bidding process. The results of the investigation could have significant implications for the future of the plant and the broader energy sector.
